

You're invited to the
2025 FALL COMMUNITY
CONVERSATION:
Addressing Hearing Loss for Better Brain Health

Join the Wisconsin Alzheimer's Disease Research Center (ADRC) for a free, all-ages educational event that will explore the science behind hearing and memory loss, and why it matters for your brain health. Enjoy complimentary refreshments, browse a healthy aging resource fair, and hear insights from experts at the University of Wisconsin and the William S. Middleton Memorial Veterans Hospital. The event will conclude with a Q&A panel moderated by Art Walaszek, MD.
